SITUATION
Current Situation:	The fire is burning in steep rugged terrain with limited ground access for fire crews. Resources will continue to construct fire line with hand crews and bulldozers in accessible areas. Fire is threatening numerous recreational assets including; mountain biking, hiking, and back packing trails. Snags from the Saddle fire continue to challenge control lines and pose additional hazards for crews. Weather patterns of increased temperatures, reduced relative humidity and erratic wind shifts create a day and night burn period. These two burn periods have an adverse impact on fire behavior and containment ability. Fire activity and direction can change at any time, be prepared and stay informed. Motorists need to please drive cautiously while driving near the fire area where heavy equipment and fire engines are traveling to and from the fire. With the elevated fire danger, we are asking everyone to use extreme caution, " Ready, Set, Go ".
